

Indigenous Peoples Day

October 14, 2019

Noon-6 p.m. ■ Main Campus Student Center, Room 125

Join the LWCC as we celebrate Indigenous Peoples Day, honoring Native Americans and commemorating their shared history and culture. Indigenous Peoples Day is a counter-celebration held on the same day as the U.S. federal holiday of Columbus Day, changing the narrative from celebrating the violent history of the colonization in the Western Hemisphere to honoring the first peoples of the United States.

Noon: Opening Ceremony

12:25 p.m.: Dr. Marty Richardson, Speaker

1:30 p.m.: Native Expo

3:30 p.m.: My Culture's Not a Costume

3:35 p.m.: Student Poetry

4:30 p.m.: Dr. Nolan Cabrera

Sponsors: Ledonia Wright Cultural Center, Office for Equity and Diversity, and the East Carolina Native American Organization

ECU

LEDONIA WRIGHT
CULTURAL CENTER

Individuals requesting accommodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) should call 252-737-1016 (voice/TTY) at least 48 hours prior to the event.